HISTORIC AMERICAN BUILDINGS SURVEY

WEHN'S BUILDING

HABS No. PA-5918

Location: 106 Clinton Street, Johnstown, Cambria County, Pa.

Description: The exuberant three-story, three-bay brick building has a central bay window with a pediment on the second story. The flat roof has a pediment detail. There are shoe and boot ornamentation over the central window on the third floor. The first floor has been remodeled, but the original door with an oculus window inside a semi-circular window on the door remains. The building is vacant.

History: In 1895 Louis Wehn, who had earlier been a partner in the dry goods store Walters & Wehn Company, built the building to house his shoe store. The upper two stories were apartments. Laborers, waitresses, and clerks lived here over the years.

Project Information and Sources: This report was part of a larger project to document the city of Johnstown, Pennsylvania. The project was undertaken by the Historic American Buildings Survey/Historic American Engineering Record (HABS/HAER), Robert Kapsch, chief, at the request of America's Industrial Heritage Project (AIHP). An overview of history of the city (HABS No. PA-5669) and the downtown (HABS No. PA-5670) provide context for these buildings as well as a comprehensive list of sources. See also HABS No. PA-5673 for further information on the 100 block of Clinton Street and additional HABS reports on buildings in the downtown and other neighborhoods.

This report was prepared by Terri L. Hartman in August 1988 under the direction of Alison K. Hoagland, HABS historian, and Kim E. Wallace, the supervisory historian of the project. Hartman's and other project historians' work was published as The Character of a Steel Mill City: Four Historic Neighborhoods of Johnstown, Pennsylvania (Washington, D.C.: HABS/HAER, National Park Service, 1989), edited by Kim E. Wallace. Illustrations in the publication include large format photographs taken by HAER photographer Jet Lowe and 35 mm photographs taken by the project historians.
